

This program is a geopolitical simulation model that analyses strategic interactions between the US and Iran. It performs a parameter sweep across various factors like initial reserves and defection probabilities, calculating outcomes such as 'Settlement' or 'Catastrophe' for each scenario to understand potential geopolitical escalations.